“By July next year, all will be completed,” he told reporters after attending a briefing on the progress of UCTS construction work at the old Airport Road here yesterday.

He said the construction started in August and would take 12 months to complete.

Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak performed the ground breaking ceremony of the project on Sept 16.

The university is expected to have its first intake of about 3,000 students in September next year.

The type of courses to be offered will be known when the vice-chancellor is appointed early next year.
